Seminar Content and Other Information

While a summary and review of AuditWare basics suitable for new users will be included, the thrust of this course is to fulfill two learning objectives: 1) becoming familiar with the changes in AuditWare features since last year's version, and 2) covering the changes in AICPA, GASB and state level guidance that affects audit reporting. There are no prerequisites for attending. We will use both a school district and a city as examples when illustrating the changes.

All changes in professional guidance which are newly required for this year's audits will be covered if they significantly affect audit reporting. These include changes by the TEA in Texas workshops and by the CDE and the Audit Appeals Panel audit guide in California workshops. GASB 54 implementation will be covered in all workshops.

All workshops will be led by Paul Shaw, President and founder of AuditWare Development Co. He is the primary designer of AuditWare products. Attendance is encouraged for current and prospective users of AuditWare software; auditors and other professional staff of CPA firms, school districts, cities, or state agencies who are involved with audit reporting. The cost is $195 per person.

You are welcome to bring your own notebook computer but it is not required. An overhead projector will also be displaying the live computer on a large projection screen for the benefit of those without computers.

Cancellations received less than 7 calendar days prior to the workshop will be assessed a 50% processing fee with the remainder refunded. "No-shows" will not receive any refund. You will not receive a confirmation of your registration. Dress is casual.

A workshop on the most powerful software in the industry for audit reporting!
